

Anaesthetists as Educators Programme

On-line Introduction Course

Clinical Content Leads: Dr Sock Koh and Dr Francis Subash

Due to the ongoing COVID-19 crisis, we have developed an online version of our Introduction course, which will provide an introduction to post graduate medical education in anaesthesia. The original content of the course remains unchanged.

The course will consist of:

- Pre-recorded video lectures
- How to give a good presentation lecture – delivered live
- Reading material
- Yammer chat room
- Live workshops delivered by zoom – delegates must attend all four workshops
- Homework

The reading material, chat room and pre-recorded lectures will be available from 26 February 2021 and it is expected that delegates will have watched the prerecorded lectures and looked at the reading material before the live workshops on 11 March.

The course is suitable for trainees, SAS doctors and consultants who have had no previous training in teaching or medical education. The course provides the groundwork for all of the courses in the programme. The Anaesthetists as Educators, Teaching and Training in the Workplace course, which is highly interactive, is a natural follow on workshop, which centres around your own real life experiences.

If you are intending to apply for Membership of the Academy of Medical Educators (AoME) you will need to attend both this course and the two-day Teaching and Training in the Workplace course and to complete both homeworks. Given the current situation with regard to COVID, the Academy has agreed to extend the time for completion of both courses from 24-30 months. The Teaching and Training in the Workplace course is suitable for senior trainees and SAS doctors (ST4 and above)

Pre-recorded video lectures:

- Creating an Environment for learning
Dr Simon Edgar, Director of Medical Education, NHS Lothian
- Teaching in small groups
Dr Sock Koh, Consultant Anaesthetist, Gloucestershire, Joint Clinical Lead, AaE: An Introduction
- Non-technical skills (ANTS) for anaesthetists Taster
Dr Alistair May, Consultant Anaesthetist
- An introduction to simulation for teaching and learning
Dr Alistair May, Joint Clinical Lead, AaE: Sim Unplugged

Live Session: (Delivered via Zoom)

09.30 Faculty meet – Faculty to join by zoom and be directed into the virtual Faculty Room
09.45 Registration and network checks for delegates

10.00 – 10.10 Welcome and objectives – Dr Sock Koh, Gloucestershire

10.10 – 10.30 Q&A session on pre-recorded material

Workshop sessions – Delegates must attend all workshops

10.30-12.10 Morning workshops

(7 delegates per workshop)

	10.30	11.10	11.25
Teaching in theatre	Group 1	Break	Group 2
Assessment and effective feedback	Group 2		Group 1
Supervision for learning	Group 3		Group 4
Promoting trainee wellbeing	Group 4		Group 3

12.10 – 13.05 LUNCH

Live Lecture

13.05 – 14.30 “How to give a good lecture” or “Presentation Skills”

(A live q&a session will form part of this presentation)

14.30 -14.45 BREAK

Afternoon workshop sessions

14.45-16.20 Afternoon workshops
(7 delegates per workshop)

	14.45	15.25	15.40
Teaching in theatre	Group 3	Break	Group 4
Assessment and effective feedback	Group 4		Group 3
Supervision for learning	Group 1		Group 2
Promoting trainee wellbeing	Group 2		Group 1

16.20-16.30 Summary, Feedback and Homework