

The ideal anaesthetist...

- enjoys working as part of a team
- is an open and effective communicator
- is observant and has a natural attention to detail
- exhibits leadership qualities within a team
- can work well under the pressure of stressful situations
- maintains the highest standards for patient care
- is committed to lifelong learning and working at a high level.

If you want to discuss further the merits of an exciting and rewarding career in anaesthesia, please speak to the College tutor in the anaesthetic department of your local hospital, or contact the training department at the Royal College of Anaesthetists:

Churchill House, 35 Red Lion Square, London WC1R 4SG

020 7092 1550 | training@rcoa.ac.uk

rcoa.ac.uk/training-careers

 @RCoANews

 RoyalCollegeofAnaesthetists

